Our state-of-the-art freshwater pool sanitising system is designed with a powerful oxidiser, which is 100 x stronger and 1000 x faster in killing off bacteria and viruses compared to chlorine to breakdown organic matter such as skin flakes, skin grease, sunscreen lotion, urine and more without the need for chemicals.

This is a revolutionary breakthrough in freshwater swimming pool technology no one has ever seen before with such a powerful, efficiently sustainable with amazing performance, while keeping your pool crystal clear rain or shine.

Ionisation is a backup system that works in conjunction with our primary oxidiser to keep your pool water clean and safe. The ionisation process uses copper and silver ions to eliminate harmful bacteria, viruses, and other microorganisms in the water.

The Ioniser output is also adjustable for the adjustment of the copper and silver ion levels in the water to maintain optimal water quality and sanitation.

As a backup system, the ideal copper/silver content in the water should be maintained at 0.2-0.5ppm. This helps to ensure that the ionisation process is effective in eliminating any potential contaminants that may be present in the pool water.

The EMD delivers a powerful short duration, high-frequency electromagnetic wave that creates repeated pulses from the face of the EMD. The sound waves then reflects off the surface of the liquid and returns to the EMD, these vibrations in the pipeline will shake the calcium in the water, and stops calcium from bonding together and attaching itself to your swimming pool's pipe lines.
